(c) whether it is a fact that both at high school and under-graduate section, there is lot of demand for more scholarships and seats and whether Government is considering to increase the seats and number of scholarship; and

(d) if not, the reasons therefor?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT (SHRIMATI D. PURANDESWARI): (a) to (d) Yes, Sir. India is helping the reconstruction process of Afghanistan in many spheres including education. The Government of India (GoI) has offered five hundred long-term university scholarship and five hundred short-term training programmes for Afghan nationals annually. Skills' development and capacity building have been identified by the Government as a key area of priority in tackling the challenge of re-building of Afghanistan. Other major skill development project are also being executed including for training of three thousand Afghan nationals in various trades of technical skills as well as a project for technical assistance to Women's Vocational Training Centre in Kabul. Since 2002, around 2215 Afghan nationals have got trained/studied in India under the various GoI sponsored training programmes. There is a considerable demand for seats in technical colleges. The requirements of Afganistan are long-term and India is committed to continue with its assistance to build up managerial and technical capacities. India's assistance programme in this field is one of the largest being executed in Afghanistan.
